Wars on Lebanon

Lebanon has been deeply affected by numerous wars and conflicts, both internal and external, throughout its history. The most significant include the Lebanese Civil War (1975-1990), the 2006 Lebanon War, and the ongoing 2023-present Israel-Hezbollah conflict. Additionally, Lebanon has experienced the 1978 South Lebanon conflict, 1982 Lebanon War, and spillover from the Syrian civil war.
Key Conflicts:
 Lebanese Civil War (1975-1990):
A protracted and devastating conflict involving various Lebanese factions, external actors like Syria and Israel, and the PLO. It resulted in an estimated 150,000 fatalities and a massive displacement of people.

 1978 South Lebanon conflict:
An Israeli invasion aimed at combating Palestinian militants based in Lebanon.
 1982 Lebanon War:
Another Israeli invasion, this time aimed at expelling the PLO from Lebanon.
 2006 Lebanon War:
A 34-day conflict between Hezbollah and Israel, triggered by Hezbollah's attack on Israeli soldiers. The war caused significant destruction and casualties in Lebanon and Israel.
 Syrian Civil War spillover:
Fighting between supporters and opponents of the Syrian regime spilled over into Lebanon, leading to sectarian violence and instability.
 2023-present Israel-Hezbollah conflict:
An ongoing conflict that escalated after Hamas's attacks on Israel. Hezbollah has launched numerous attacks into Israel, and Israel has responded with bombardments and incursions into Lebanon.
